Problem: When certain files (c language, java or other programming files) are copied between different computers, including the Internet, Windows XP mark them as un save and block them from being copied and pasted.
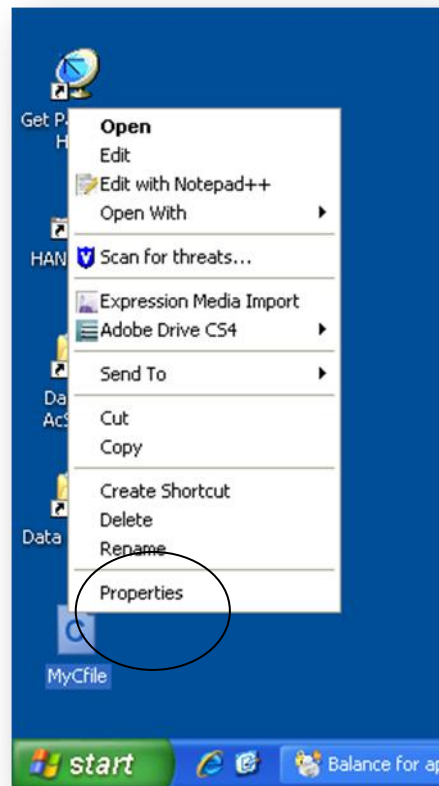

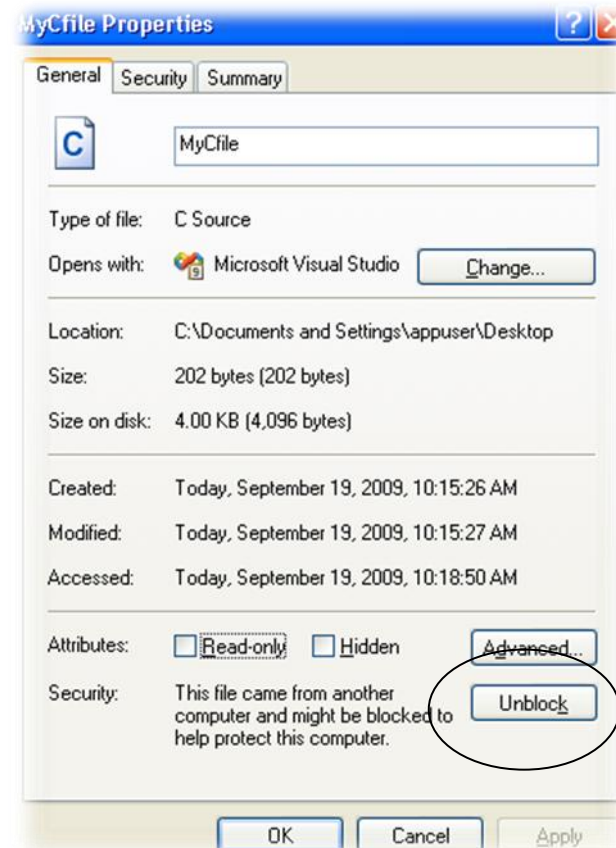

Solution: Do the following:
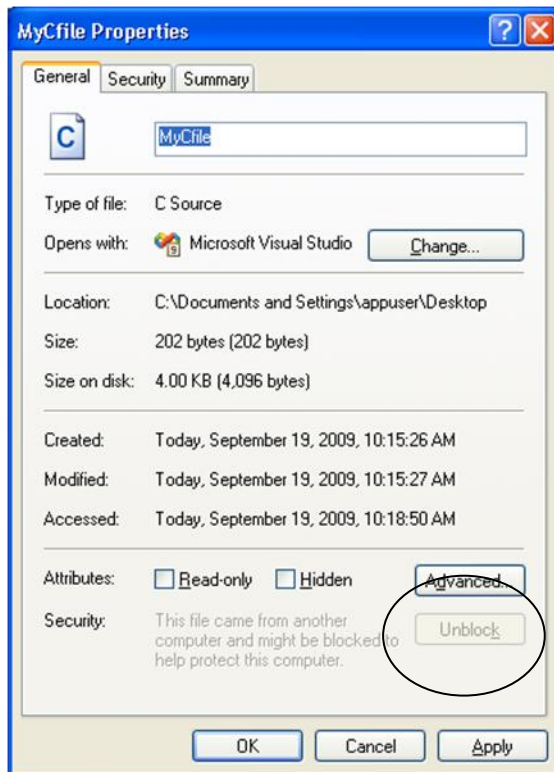

1

Locate your file.

2

Right click it and go to Properties.

3

In General Tab, in the Security section, Click Unblock.

4

You are done!

You can now copy your file to the share \\zeus\data or any other location!

Make sure the Unblock button gets grayed out!

By: Mohamad Fakih. Academic Computing. Santa Monica College. September 2009